Run 1504

22 brave souls braved the elements for Fair Game's Porpoise Run.

Thanks Fair Game (and your helpers) for the beaut BBQ in difficult conditions.

Well done for planning our run and walk between downpours.

Forest deserves a mention for seeing the light (getting the lights switched on)

Run Report by Jock. Good run but complained he couldn't find arrows. Bless Fair Game, she had explained her dilemma earlier having to set the run twice in the pouring rain. Pay attention Jock dear.

SOW from Jaws to Forest. For telling Jaws where to run and protesting it was all Jock's fault.

CHARGES:

Nathan: charged by Jock for whinging on the run..." Ohh there's a hill.. We're miles away...Ohh Jock why are you taking us so far" Luckless refused to believe her "Tom Cruise" would ever complain!

Parul: charged by Tic for talking and having his hair cut to hide his circumcision scar. After reluctantly downing his drink Parul was given a challenge to return to his original spot without uttering another word. How do you think that went?

Flaps: charged by Clot for flicking out a Bondi cigar which was observed floating around the jetty...or was it a boat? Well, Flaps is a big bloke... reasoned Clot. Clot was concerned for the aggravated Advocate readers.

Jackass: charged by Parul for hitting an elderly disabled man on the head. Parul, threatening mandatory reporting. HOWEVER, Jackass was merely protecting Tic from a deadly mosquito.

Tic: charged by Hairy Butler for attending Gash Hash..say no more...except that lovely Luckless thought it sweet.

Jackass: charged by Fair Game for admitting she used to work on the streets of Sydney (Kings Cross to be precise)

Nathan: charged by Parul for coming too early!!! Minds out of the gutter please..Arriving at Parul's an hour ahead of time.
